Autumn effects in millinery

At $5 and $10

We are specializing on the above two prices in millinery. We've gone to the extreme in value giving that these two prices may mean more to you than ever before.

Broadway millinery is built on practical lines, true to every line of fashion and yet with a distinctive air about it most attractive.

These two prices are the foundation stones, and yet they don't by any means represent the only attractive lines. Whether it be $25 or $50 that you wish to pay, you'll find this millinery display worthy of your attention.

Large hats, small hats, trim little turbans and wide sailor effects in the very shades that fashion approves most. Browns and blues and a profusion of black hats.

Just now we note the arrival of a representative showing of red hats, for Fashion whispers that red is to figure prominently in the new colorings.

Fashion Show Days Reveal the Importance of Broadway Millinery and Broadway Prices

Don't merely choose a hat because it is pretty and becoming, if the price isn't within reason. We price millinery as we do all other lines of merchandising, upon the low-profit basis, not how much can we charge, but how little can we afford to sell it for?

"These New Brown Kid Boots at $3.50 Are Simply Dears"

Enthusiastic women are proclaiming these new styles the most charming that have been yet shown. They're made of beautiful dark brown kid in stylish button and blucher cuts, with the favored short stubby vamps. Hand-turned soles and excellent workmanship throughout. STAINED HAT IS CLEW. BLOODY DEED TRACED.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 27.—Traced by the stains on his hat, caused by the blood of his victim, J. R. McAuley, with his companion, Joe Burns, was arrested here last night after a desperate fight at their home, in which McAuley's wife figured in an effort to shield the men, accused of a brutal assault on Howard McEwen, a store clerk. McEwen was badly beaten near a roadside outside the city limits by two thugs. In striking him on the head with a heavy club, the hat of one of his assailants fell on the ground and was stained with blood. After a search of three hours, officers traced the deed to McAuley and Burns, by reason of McAuley's wearing a hat freshly stained with blood.

INDIAN VENGEANCE.

Red Man's Body Found in Ditch, Throat Cut From Ear to Ear.

Details.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

RENO (Nev.) Sept. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Indian vengeance has overtaken Jesse Cook, and today his body lies in Perkins & Gilling's morgue, the throat cut from ear to ear. The redskin has paid the penalty threatened him when he took the stand and testified against George Jim, when the latter was tried for the murder of Archie Skimmerhorn and sentenced to nine years.

The body was found about 5 o'clock this evening floating in the Orr Extension ditch at the head of Spanish Springs Valley, by W. J. Weaverling of Sparks. Mr. Weaverling was hunting when he made his gruesome discovery. He at once notified Justice of the Peace Pollock of Sparks. Judge Pollock and members of the undertaking firm set out from Reno last evening to recover the corpse. Neither Sheriff Ferrell nor Chief of Police Morrison was taken, as it was believed to be a case of drowning. A glance at the body showed too plainly, however, that murder was responsible for the death.

Evidently a keen-edged knife had cut the throat clear round, severing both jugular veins. There were no other marks on the body, nor did the Indian's apparel bespeak a struggle. Alma Haley, an unmarried Indian woman, identified the body as that of Jesse Cook.

Removal of Censorship at Naples Dis-closes Startling Details—Stricken Drop on Street.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

ROME, Sept. 27.—With the removal of the censorship starting details of the cholera epidemic at Naples are being received. The number of persons have died in the streets, and the popular excitement is such that the police have great difficulty in maintaining order. It is reported that 100,000 persons of the wealthier classes already have fled from Naples.

There were thirty-two new cases and twenty-six deaths from cholera in Naples yesterday. Immigrants arriving today from America were forcibly prevented from landing. Passengers on the steamer Canopic, which reached Naples yesterday from Boston, were permitted to disembark, but were immediately escorted to the railroad station by soldiers. Most of the cases are in the squalid quarter of the city.

NEW RECORDS FOR BARNEY.

Exceeds Three Marks Made on Mile Dirt Track.

De Palma and Robertson's Marks Lowered.

Tom Jones and Ad Wolgast Witness Events.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW WAUKESHA, Sept. 27.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Barney Oldfield swept the field at the Wisconsin State Fair automobile meet today. The speed veteran broke Ralph De Palma's record for the twenty and twenty-five mile marks, and Robertson's record for an hour.

De Palma's figures for twenty miles was 13m. 25s. Oldfield clipped the figure to 12m. 15s., and hung up a mark of 22m. 41s. for the twenty-five miles, against De Palma's 22m. 58s.

The speed king, at the wheel of the Knox, won the one-hour race, covering 60 1/2 miles, being the first time any driver with any car ever covered sixty or more miles an hour on a circular dirt track. Robertson, with Simplex, held the previous record, 59 miles, made at Brighton Beach.

Fifteen thousand persons crowded the stands to witness the races. Tom Jones and Ad Wolgast were in the official stand.

Summary:

Ten miles, 231 to 250 cubic inches displacement: Buick (Fahrer) won; Buick (Knox) second; Pope-Hartford (Nelson) third; time, 2m. 54 3/4s.

Ten miles, up to 220 displacement: Buick (Fahrer) won; Warren-Detroit (Borchers) second; time, 10m. 21 3/4s.

Ten miles, handicap, 600 displacement: Pope-Hartford (Nelson) won; A. L. second; Warren-Detroit third; time, 10m. 25s.

One hour, 231 to 250 displacement: Knox (Oldfield) won; Pope-Hartford (Nelson) second; Buick (Fahrer) third; Warren-Detroit (Borchers) fourth; Buick (Fahrer) fifth; P. A. L. (Hanshue) sixth; Buick (Knox) seventh; distance, 60 1/2m.

RECKLESS RACERS.

VANDERBILT CUP CALLS CRACKS.

QUINTETTE OF WESTERNERS ARE PICKED FOR HONORS.

Shettler Backs Hanshue as His Prize Favorite. Russ Chooses Dingley as His Man to Win Cup. Al Livingston and Harold Stone to Be Counted.

When the Vanderbilt Cup race is started early Saturday morning, a quintette of western drivers, four of them hailing from Los Angeles and a fifth well known in this city, are to contend with the greatest drivers in the world for the honor of winning the coveted trophy.

Every autoist in Los Angeles is anxiously watching the news from the twelve-mile course, where the racers are being groomed for the 1910 road battle, which promises to be the greatest race ever pulled off in the Vanderbilt series.

Harris Hanshue is probably the man who is to carry the most Los Angeles money. He is being heavily backed by Leon T. Shettler, who is confident "Hans" is to win the Vanderbilt. The local driver, who won the Santa Monica race last year, has an Apperson car that will do eighty-five miles an hour. This car can move fast enough to win and Hanshue understands the machine well enough to grab the honors. He has a Los Angeles mechanic in F. Ferguson, and the pair are capable of snatching a victory even from the classy bunch that is to start.

When Shettler consented to allow Hanshue to drive in the great race he knew he was choosing a man who is worth backing. He is wagering money on the belief that Hanshue will defeat any other local driver and there are some good ones from this town who have splendid chances. Every man in the Shettler agency in this city shares the belief that Hanshue is the man to win the Vanderbilt.

Hanshue will win, and down to the motor-car washer have waged large or small sums on the outcome.

Bert Dingley is the man local autoists believe has the best chance to defeat Hanshue. Bill Russ is so confident Bert can win that he has bet $200 with Shettler after an equal sum with others that Dingley will beat Hanshue in the contest. Russ believes that the Pope-Hartford driver, which Dingley will drive is certain to be the first car over the tape at the finish of the hard run.

TWO WINNERS.

Though Hanshue was the big race at Santa Monica last year, Dingley won the small race and made fast time with his Chalmers-Detroit. This year he has cast his lot with the Pope-Hartford and everybody seems to think he has a fine chance to take first place. They favor Bert over Jack Fleming, though Fleming won the Fortola race in San Francisco last year.

Dingley and Fleming will pilot the two Pope-Hartford entries together with the mechanics left with the cars. Dingley will have for his mechanic C. F. Osgood, and G. R. Feather will ride as Fleming's right-hand man. Drivers and their mechanics will hardly leave their cars for an instant, except for the necessary sleep and their meals.

The course is 12 1/2 miles long, 5 1/2 miles on one of the fine stretches of the Long Island Motor Parkway, and 7 1/2 miles in the country roads. The race will be for 275.05 miles or twenty-two laps, starting at daybreak and finishing probably about four hours later. The course for this year's race is identical in length and territory with that of 1909, but material improvements have been made in the surface of the route so that higher speed and less tire trouble than ever before are looked for. The race for the Vanderbilt cup is for cars of class C, under the definition written by the contest board of the A.A.A. and calls for stock cars. Class C will be divided up into two divisions—one, 4-C, for cars having a piston displacement of 301-450 cu. in., and 5-C, for cars having 451-600 cu. in. displacement. To the car covering the re-

NIKRENT AND THE KNOX START LONG EXCURSION OVER SANDS.

HERBERT BROWN has thrown down the gauntlet by starting the Knox racer over the Phoenix course, Joe Nikrent, who won the race last year, left the Door-Brown garage last night in the big car stripped for the sand battle and will drive it through to the Arizona finish of the 45-mile race. Nikrent is to drive the car in the desert race, and Brown has decided to try to win first honors. He has a fine chance.

There is not a driver that knows the course as well as Nikrent. He smashed all records last year, won from some of the fastest cars built, took desperate chances, and his was the first machine to finish at the Arizona fair grounds. When he was in the tape he was given a generous ovation, as he had performed something others had tried desperately hard to do. He is now in a straight contest and is absolutely on the square as a racer.

This year Nikrent plans to get every advantage possible. He has taken with him a younger brother and the two will examine the road carefully and he has made better than thirty miles an hour on the road. This, of course, is fast enough to win the Vanderbilt cup race.

There is to be at least one spectator on the course who will be anxious for Al to win. Mrs. Livingston is on her way to New York, and expects to be at the Vanderbilt contest to watch her husband win. She left this city Saturday night, after receiving a letter from her husband, in which Al told her he believed he could win the big race. Livingston has Harold Stone as a Great Western car which is to start in the smaller event, and he may get away in the big contest. He has shown his ability to drive some of the fastest cars built, and already holds enough records around Los Angeles to place him in the racing class.

FIRST FOOTBALL INJURY TO RUGBY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—Serious internal injuries received in a football game yesterday, coincident with an attack of appendicitis, may prove fatal for Max Reinhardt, aged 19, captain of the Santa Clara High School Rugby team.

Removed to a hospital at Oakland from Berkeley, where his team played the University of California freshmen, Reinhardt was operated upon last night and his condition is said to be critical.

OFF FOR PHOENIX. FIRST RUGBY GAME.

Los Angeles High and San Bernardino to Play Saturday at Fiesta Park.

The Los Angeles High School Rugby football team is to play the first game of its schedule at Fiesta Park Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the San Bernardino High School team.

Both schools have strong teams. Los Angeles has won last year's material back this year, and San Bernardino has played Rugby for five years with considerable success. A big battle is expected when the two aggregate.

Los Angeles High School's second team will meet Hollywood High's second as a preliminary contest to the regular game. If this can be satisfactory, it will be scheduled to take place at 1 o'clock.

Miss Blythe, the "L. A." musical director, is forming a band which may be present to live up affairs at the contest. Wade Dawson, brother of Ward, was chosen to lead the Blue and White Rugby rosters.

Coach Noble will probably line up his men thus: Wilson and Hodges, right half; Blade, lock; Dorn and Crowell, side rank; Pettigill and Brown, rear rank; Condee, wing forward; Clark, half-back; Morrison, full back. The team will play in the first quarter. McClure, right wing; Mitchell, left wing; Newman, full-back.

C. Rathal of Deming, N. M., took the high honors in the annual pigeon shoot of the Arizona Sportsman's Association that has just been concluded at Phoenix.

Arab Woman and Donkey Boy

If love is blind, he must be able to pick out the pretty girls by instinct, especially in Egypt, for the Egyptian women wear a veil. A Khedive to whom I became well acquainted, in speaking of the condition of women in Mussulman countries, said, "It is generally believed in Europe and America that it is our religion which enjoins women to veil themselves and to live in retirement; but that is an error, and religion has nothing whatever to do with it. It is an ancient custom, and dating from the time, far distant, when each man in the East had to defend his property, and especially his wives and his daughters. The more beautiful and attractive these were, the more were they hidden. Our law does not oblige a woman to veil herself, but it does say, 'If thy beauty cause strife amongst men, inspiring them with love or jealousy in others, then were it better that she should be hid.' If that law was taken literally, beautiful women alone would veil themselves. But women dress themselves in a way which is neither so ugly nor so hideous as the veils of the East. It is the yellow and wrinkled dress of the veiled old hags that are still shrouded in veils.

AUSTRALIAN NOVELTY RACE.

Chairs to Be Set in Middle of the Fields, and Riders Are to Circle Them.

The Australian novelty race will be a new feature on the bicycle racing card at Fiesta Park next Sunday.

The race is to be ridden in the center of the field and somewhat resembles the parlor game of musical chairs. Twelve chairs are set so as to form a circle, their backs facing the center. Fifteen riders circle the chairs on their bicycles. At the sounding of a gong the men dismount and scramble for seats. The three men left without chairs are out of the race. With three chairs removed the second heat is run and so on until there is but one man left, who is declared the winner.

A return match motor-paced race is to be contested by Erik Pye and Ray Duer. In the most Sunday before last Duer defeated Pye, but the latter was much handicapped by his pace-maker, Hubert Kittle, who was new at the business. It is his first race of the kind. Pye and Kittle are working hard through this week and should be able to give Duer with his pace-maker, F. E. Whittier, a good race by Sunday.

The event is to run in three heats of three miles each.

Manager Pye has arranged for a handicap motorcycle race, a two-mile open professional race, a half-mile handicap professional event, and two amateur races, which will complete the card for Sunday.

Latest A.A.U. Entries.

Five entries for the S.P.A.A.U. meet to be held at Occidental College next Saturday, received by Manager Watson B. Burt, are: A. J. Griffith, all-around event, unattached; Herbert Whittier, all-around, under colors of Citrus Union; Bradner, the 400-yard dash, from Occidental College; Stenman of Occidental, all-around; Stenman of Jackson of Asia, the 400-yard dash, from the Citrus Union High. These men are all good men and should do good work in this meet. Whittier and Jackson hold interstate records in the 400-yard dash. Bradner holds the conference record in the 400.

Football at Columbia.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University has called the student body in consultation to ask its advice on the question of restoring football to the list of sports and again instituting intercollegiate games, which were abolished two years ago. Advocates of the game at the university believe that under the new regulations, which are expected also that if intercollegiate games are restored Columbia will again become a constant with the other large colleges for gridiron honors.

He Meets Two Strangers.
Another case of highway robbery was reported to the police last night. E. L. Richardson of No. 400 East Third street, while in a downtown saloon, made the acquaintance of two strangers. Whistle Traffic Regulation Tomorrow.
The police will tomorrow put into operation a new plan of regulating traffic at busy street crossings and if successful it is probable that it will be extended until the entire downtown business district is under regulation. The first test will be made at Fifth and Main streets, a patrolman with a shrill whistle will be stationed in the center of the square so as to command a view of both streets. One blast from his whistle directs all north and south-bound traffic to stop at once and allow the east and west-bound traffic to move and relieve congestion. Two blasts stops the east and west-bound traffic and allows the north and south-bound to move. Three blasts orders all traffic to stop. After a week's test at Fifth and Main, a test will be made at First and Main streets. Not Enough Snacks.
BREVITIES.
Telephone Today—Ring The Times and insert your story. It has been difficult to regulate the telephoning of classified advertisements for the Sunday Times. Efforts have been made to relieve the Saturday congestion, on account of their being so numerous, but it has been impossible to judge the particular need of the day selected by patrons to call up the office. Hence the urgent necessity of advertisers telephoning their announcements early in order to insure accuracy in transcribing and afford a superior service in consequence. They can be telephoned any day in the week, with orders to run on Sunday. The office will be glad to receive them, and will take pains to see that all directions are carefully complied with.

ALL OTHER REPORTS WRONG.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
BAKERSFIELD (Cal.) Sept. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That the contract between the independent oil producers' agency and the Associated Oil Company will affect the enormous aggregate of $250,000,000, that it does not involve directly the sale of any amount of oil from the agency to the Associated at any stated price, that all former reports concerning the contract have been wrong, that the details of the agreement are complicated, and probably will not all be made known until the directors of the agency are called together in this city to formally ratify it, but that the contract when its details are finally made known will have the effect of restoring confidence in the oil business, is the gist of the latest unofficial report on the all-absorbing topic of the hour among the oil producers of the State.
On the agency's side it is "all up to R. L. Clark." He has been given full power to act within certain stated limits.

STAMPEDER UNDER WHAT HE STARTED.

Pinchot's Conservation Policy Is Trampled by Western Mining Men in the Congress—Ballinger Stands for Further Development.

GIFFORD PINCHOT, whose friends reported that he had "stampeded" the American Mining Congress Monday night because of the applause from the galleries, found himself directly in the path of the stampede at yesterday's session, and his conservation policy was badly trampled, beneath the hoofs of the western mining men. Congressman S. C. Smith led the attack on the Pinchot policy of conservation. C. A. Barlow followed with the statement that he had found Pinchot a good fellow but a very impractical and visionary man who came to administration of the national resources. S. C. Graham was the only speaker who took a flat stand on the Pinchot platform in support of the leasing and royalty system of developing the oil fields.

If it were not that some serious and reputable men and institutions are arguing the Pinchot theories, Congressman Smith said, he would characterize them as absurd. In view of the fact, he regards them as displaying lamentably poor social and political economics. Congressman Smith suggested that the oil men of California unite upon some plan so that their representatives in Congress will know what to work for as well as what to work against.

It is possible that an open stand on the question of disposition to be made of public oil and mineral lands will be taken by the members of this congress. The committee on resolutions will hold an all-day session today at the Alexandria Hotel, room 3, to discuss conservation resolutions and give audience to the authors of such resolutions in order that their theories may be fully explained. George W. E. Dorsey is chairman of this committee.

SMITH'S ARGUMENT.
"It has always been the policy of this government," said Congressman Smith in his address, "to parcel out its natural resources and not to make money out of them. We have been built up as a nation on the theory of individualism, and God grant that we shall not now desert it. They are asking us to go into a system of tenancy with overlands, which is repulsive to all American ideas of development."
"This scheme of leasing oil lands, if it is for revenue, is unfair and unjust. If the government is going to levy a special tax, it should be levied upon the whole oil industry, and not upon a part of it in the West. Are we going to place a burden of taxation on the even sections of land and not on the odd sections? Will you place a tax on the oil lands of Kern and Fresno counties, and nothing on Santa Barbara and Los Angeles?"

"Will you say to the prospector who goes out to locate oil or other minerals that if he loses he must lose, and that if he wins Uncle Sam will take the 'velvet'? I never heard of a prospector who started out in search of wages or who was moved by the hope of making interest on his burro."
"There is but one solution of this mineral land problem, and that is to enact laws which will provide for the distribution of the land among the citizens on the most just and equitable basis and give full right and title to the possessors when they have established their claim. If the oil men of California will agree upon some such method of locating oil and mining claims, I shall be glad to work for it in Congress."

WANT ONLY JUSTICE.
Charles F. Fox of Bakersfield endeavored to call a halt on the conservation discussion. He said the oil men had not yet made up their own minds as to what they wanted. He begged the congress to take no formal action in determining a policy. His was followed by C. A. Barlow, also of Bakersfield, who said it was almost an insult to the congress to suggest that it could not act intelligently and wisely upon the question.

"All the oil men want," said Barlow, "is justice. It is not a question of proposition. They are radically opposed to any system of leasing oil lands on a royalty basis. That would mean turning over our resources to the corporations backed by large capital."
"We want two amendments to the present laws. It should be provided that all locations must be registered in the local land office, and there should be a limit to the acreage taken by any one man with a severalty for violation. I have been out with Mr. Pinchot in the oil fields and he has no practical method of conservation to offer. He says 'conservation' and that settles the problem."

"What would happen if the United States government became the owner of the oil supply? One administration might decide to limit the production, believing that oil at a dollar a barrel would be a good thing. The next administration might decide to produce large quantities of oil at two bits a barrel. There is only one safe law by which to regulate price and production; and that is the law of supply and demand."

BROAD INDUSTRY.
T. A. O'Donnell called attention to the fact that the oil industry represents a larger number of people today than almost any similar activity. The oil men, he said, are not the magnates of great wealth they are pictured, but are representatives of thousands of citizens who have invested smaller sums in oil development. The original withdrawal bill was an outrage to many fixed interests in California, and this remark was widely treated with applause. He warned the congress not to encourage the tendency shown by the national government toward a bureaucratic supervision of the industries of the West.

S. C. Graham touched a dry fuse when he said that some of the powers of oil lands had been held by corporations who could hire the most gun men and he thinks those who want to maintain the present laws with modifications are those who want the gun men protected for the benefit of the poor prospector. He announced that the people of the West will not stand for a continuance of monopoly in public lands.

Frank H. Short and T. E. Gibbon took opposite views of the question at the afternoon session. Gibbon presented the paternal-socialist point of view, and short arguing for freedom of opportunity and an individualistic scheme of administration.

SHORT'S ALLEGORY.
In the course of a lengthy but very interesting address Mr. Short said, among other things:
"A good many people do not like to hear legal discussions as much as they ought to, but all of us can understand the justice and equity of a thing. Now, let us assume that the United States owned all of the public lands for the benefit of all the people. In other words, that Uncle Sam is the father of four sons, and in order that our geography and our history may be on straight, we will call them East and North and South and West, and Uncle Sam, being mindful of his trust, and a father generous to a fault, proceeded to distribute to his three elder sons, East, North and South, all of that por-

AND NO TEARS SHED. Cornelius, Who Comes to Unionize the Carmen, Sneaks Away When His Record is Printed.

Dick Cornelius, the discredited labor boss of San Francisco, who came to Los Angeles last week with the avowed intention of "unionizing" the street car men, left town as ingloriously as he came. He did not even take the trouble to leave an address to which his mail might be sent, so far as can be learned. Whether he went to San Francisco or East is not known.

It is also a notable fact that the unionizing of the street car men is not progressing very rapidly; the "membership" remaining at the old figure of 150, or thereabouts, out of a total of 2700 or 2800 men employed on the platforms of the local traction companies.

The "closed shop" can never be established on the street car lines of Los Angeles, for the simple fact that the "open shop" itself is there esteemed a dangerous fallacy, a pitfall and a snare. The policy of the management is to get rid of any and all union men as fast as they are discovered, it being argued that the toleration of unionists among a bunch of workers is deleterious on the same principle as the working of the familiar rotten apple.

All this, and much more, Cornelius found out during his brief stay. It was extremely distasteful to him to read his record in The Times, the expose of his fiasco in San Francisco, and his perfidy toward the very men he pretended to lead, as charged by his own former companions and fellow councilors. The game in Los Angeles did not look promising, and Cornelius leaved. For all of which no tears are shed.

But Youth and Maid New Wonder
If Their Little Excursion Into the Realms of Humor Was Worth the Candle—Will the Joke Come True?

Cupid's attributes are manifold and yesterday he came out into the white light as a full-fledged humorist. There can be no doubt, however, that he is chuckling in what would be his sleeve, did he not prefer the altogether costume, at the outcome of a practical joke of his in the shape of a fake elopement wherein figured prominently a pretty visitor from Chicago and one of Los Angeles' younger set.

Miss Eliza Quinn, daughter of Thomas Quinn, an official of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, is the lady in the case. Though she has but 17 years behind her, she was one of the Windy City's most popular debutantes during the past season, and when she came here on a visit this summer, it was with an equipment calculated to start something among susceptible swains.

Miss Quinn is saying with her sister, Mrs. Max Kuehn, No. 710 East Edgeware Road, There, as though drawn by a magnet, went Claude W. Webber, a civil engineer residing at No. 184 West Thirty-seventh Drive. There was an introduction, various and sundry—also numerous—calls, and the acquaintance threw so noticeably as to make the young folk the objects of much good-natured fun at the hands of their friends. To this they paid no attention—apparently, their intention of making a little trip into the country. Asked as to their destination they replied vaguely: "Oh, tradition to the social proclivities of her handsome and dashing husband. Her face is lined with anxiety, her eyes are heavy with a long and sleepless vigil at the bedside of a sick child, and the pathetic droop of her lips speaks of a quiet sorrow.

"You really must excuse me," she said, tears welling up and her lips trembling. "It is true that such papers have been filed through my attorneys, but beyond that I cannot say anything at all about it. It has been my greatest desire to avoid any publicity whatever in the matter, and cannot regret too much that anything should have come out in regard to it. As to the details of the charge, nothing shall be made public at present—at least, through me."

HE'S UNTRUE, WIFE'S PLEA.

Wealthy Clubman Defendant in Divorce Action.

Every Effort Made to Keep the Matter Quiet.

Plaintiff Declines to Name a Co-Respondent.

James V. Baldwin, clubman and realty dealer, is defendant in a secret divorce suit, brought last Saturday by Mrs. Baldwin. Infidelity is the charge.

Immediate steps were taken after the filing of the action to suppress the official record of the case, and every effort is being made by the principals and their attorneys to keep the matter quiet. Aside from confirming the report that she had filed the suit, and the grounds on which it is based, Mrs. Baldwin yesterday declined absolutely to discuss the proceedings.

She is a pretty little woman and evidently an ardent home-lover, in con-

Another suit bobbed up in the Superior Court yesterday to worry the governors and heirs of J. J. Baldwin.

This time the applicant for some of the money that "Lucky" left for his family and the lawyers to fight over is a young woman residing in New York, who declares that the old horseman took her under his wing and educated her in the best institutions in the country. In return for this she says she gave him nothing but her company, but she declares that "Lucky" was so generous that he agreed to give her $50,000. Since his death she has seen nothing of the money, and she wants the court to give her a judgment against H. A. Unruh, executor of the estate.

The plaintiff is Zella Saunders Aedo, who says that in 1893-4, when she first met Baldwin, she was but 16 years old. At that time she was posing as a child actress, and she alleges in her complaint, filled engagements in all parts of the country, receiving $25 a week, her expenses and an attendant. She further avers that at that particular juncture she gave promise of achieving high honors in the amusement world.

About this time she met Baldwin, who she says became greatly interested in her and made her proposition that she should abandon her profession as an actress, and that Baldwin should be given the right to care for, educate and rear her. He was to have the right to her society, and in return was to clothe, maintain and support her until she reached the age of 21 years. When she was that old Baldwin was to give her $50,000, she declares.

Miss Aedo further says that after the acceptance of the agreement on contract, she gave up the theater, and left her home in New York and came to Los Angeles, accompanied by her mother and Baldwin, and they proceeded to the Baldwin home at Santa Anita. Afterward they went to the Baldwin Hotel in San Francisco, she says, and during all that time Baldwin supported her, and was given the right to her society, and allowed her to attend first-class schools at his expense.

When the Baldwin Hotel burned in San Francisco, the complaint says, Baldwin told the plaintiff that he could not then pay her the $50,000, but that he would pay her when and if not, he would make provision for her in his will.

All of the provisions of the contract have been carried out, according to the allegation, except the single item, the $50,000.

The claim of the plaintiff was presented to H. A. Unruh, executor of the Baldwin estate, and by him rejected. She prays judgment for $50,000 under the terms of the alleged agreement. The suit is filed by Joseph Golden of San Francisco, and Gray, Barker, Downen, Allen, Van Dyke & Juttan of this city.

USING A SQUIRT-GUN?
Fiend Who Ruins Women's Gowns on
the Street Breaks Out Again,
Two Victims.

The degenerate who takes an inexplicable delight in creeping up behind women as they walk through the streets in the evening and soiling their dresses with some filthy fluid, which may or may not be tobacco juice, was again abroad last night. Two cases were reported to the police between 9 and 10 o'clock, both from North Main street near the Federal Building.

In each case an expensive garment was ruined. The first report was made by telephone it being stated that a girl had been spat upon as she walked with a young man.

In the second instance an angry husband called at the Police Station with his wife and little boy and made his report to Lieut. Sebastian in person. He indignantly waved a light opera cloak disfigured by a dark smudge nearly twelve inches in diameter. The nasty stuff had been thrown on so hard that it had soaked through the cloak and soiled the dress under it. The quantity of the fluid used and the force with which it had been applied, led the police to discredit the theory that the assailant merely spits tobacco juice. They believe he uses a squirt gun.

He was to have the right to her society, and in return was to clothe, maintain and support her until she reached the age of 21 years. When she was that old Baldwin was to give her $50,000, she declares.

Miss Aedo further says that after the acceptance of the agreement on contract, she gave up the theater, and left her home in New York and came to Los Angeles, accompanied by her mother and Baldwin, and they proceeded to the Baldwin home at Santa Anita. Afterward they went to the Baldwin Hotel in San Francisco, she says, and during all that time Baldwin supported her, and was given the right to her society, and allowed her to attend first-class schools at his expense.

When the Baldwin Hotel burned in San Francisco, the complaint says, Baldwin told the plaintiff that he could not then pay her the $50,000, but that he would pay her when and if not, he would make provision for her in his will.

All of the provisions of the contract have been carried out, according to the allegation, except the single item, the $50,000.

The claim of the plaintiff was presented to H. A. Unruh, executor of the Baldwin estate, and by him rejected. She prays judgment for $50,000 under the terms of the alleged agreement. The suit is filed by Joseph Golden of San Francisco, and Gray, Barker, Downen, Allen, Van Dyke & Juttan of this city.

USING A SQUIRT-GUN?
Fiend Who Ruins Women's Gowns on
the Street Breaks Out Again,
Two Victims.

The degenerate who takes an inexplicable delight in creeping up behind women as they walk through the streets in the evening and soiling their dresses with some filthy fluid, which may or may not be tobacco juice, was again abroad last night. Two cases were reported to the police between 9 and 10 o'clock, both from North Main street near the Federal Building.

In each case an expensive garment was ruined. The first report was made by telephone it being stated that a girl had been spat upon as she walked with a young man.

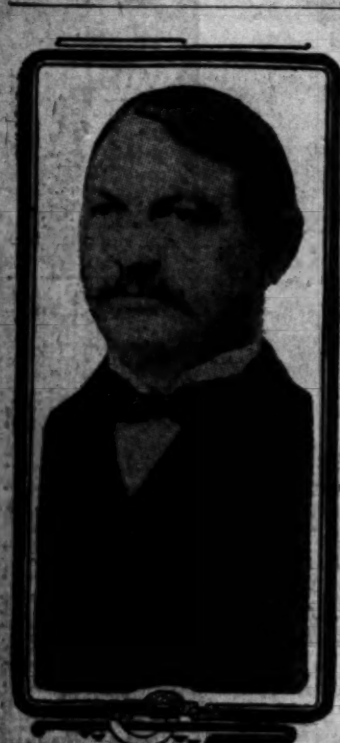

In the second instance an angry husband called at the Police Station with his wife and little boy and made his report to Lieut. Sebastian in person. He indignantly waved a light opera cloak disfigured by a dark smudge nearly twelve inches in diameter. The nasty stuff had been thrown on so hard that it had soaked through the cloak and soiled the dress under it. The quantity of the fluid used and the force with which it had been applied, led the police to discredit the theory that the assailant merely spits tobacco juice. They believe he uses a squirt gun.

Big Questions at Mining Congress

MINING CONGRESS.

on the investigation of mine accidents, in which he showed that the percentage of fatalities has been steadily decreasing for number of years.

FROM BALLINGER.

Having heard Pinchot on the previous evening, the delegates were deeply interested in the reading of a letter from Secretary Ballinger. Ballinger, however, was not controversial in his communication, but expressed himself clearly as standing with the mining men and oil men for opening the natural resources to further development by the men of the West. Mr. Ballinger's letter was as follows:

"Because of my interest in the development of the natural resources of our public domain, I would be pleased to attend the coming convention of the American Mining Congress, but fear that I will not be able to do so because of official duties which will require my return to Washington city prior to the date of your convention."

"The administration conservation bills were prepared in the form of suggestions for the consideration of Congress, and so far as I personally am concerned, I am not insistent upon their adoption as drawn, but will welcome any changes therein, which will aid in the conservation and development of the resources affected by the measure."

"In my annual report to the President for the year 1909, I suggested with reference to coal lands the importance of separating the right to mine from the title to the surface. This has been accomplished by legislation, adopted at the last session. I further suggested that the conservation of the coal deposits and the prevention of monopoly or extortion might be accomplished either through a leasing system or through the sale of the coal with restrictions as to mining and use. This recommendation contemplated requiring the lessee or grantee to open the mines and to develop them to the output. Practically the same suggestions were made with reference to oil and gas deposits. Deposits of phosphates are of special interest because of their importance in connection with the refertilization of impoverished soils, and it is of primary importance that the undisposed of deposits of phosphates should hereafter be disposed of upon such conditions and with such limitations as will secure their use upon American soil."

"With reference to the remaining timber upon the public domain outside the national forests, I recommended the repeal of the timber and stone acts and the enactment of a law providing for the separate disposition of the timber from the land, the latter to be disposed of after the removal of the timber under appropriate agricultural or mineral rights. I recommended this method of disposition would provide a means whereby this timber might be utilized as needed, while the land itself would remain for disposition under the homestead laws, if suitable for agriculture or for exploitation of mineral resources in character. Provision should also be made for a preference right to purchase by the holder of his claim. The matter of protecting these public lands against the sale of public lands has been withdrawn for this purpose. In the report above described, I recommended that if the Federal government desires to control or supervise water power development, it can do so by enactment of a measure, which will grant a lease or easement for a limited period with the option of renewal, provision being made for prompt development and a moderate charge for the rights granted or the entering into any combination or charge rates beyond a reasonable profit on the investment and operation. It is admitted by nearly every one that the waters of the streams are subject to State jurisdiction in their appropriation and beneficial use, and with this in mind, bills were introduced in Congress during the last session, providing for the granting of public lands for this kind of development to the States, upon condition that they dispose of easements or leases for the development of electrical power upon proper conditions, the title to the lands to revert to the general government in the event of their application to any other use."

"Our present public land laws in so far as they relate to the classes of land heretofore described need revision, and even if Congress shall fail to agree entirely with the suggestions made by the department of the interior, it is hoped that some will form the basis for new legislation. Any departure from the subject on these subjects is, of course, in a sense experimental, but it is the desire of the Interior Department to secure practical legislation and eliminate the experimental features so far as possible."

tion of securing such legislation as will promote development, but guard the public interest by protecting against injurious monopoly or unreasonable charges to the consumer for these resources.

Reference to the minerals other than those described, and it seems there is a clear line of demarcation between the fuel minerals and those which may be dominated as the precious metals, I believe that our present mining laws based upon the experience and wisdom of those who for nearly half a century have participated in their development should not be changed, except by such amendments or additions as may be deemed essential to improve them. In this connection it is believed that the law should be modified so as to require mining location notices to be placed on record in the local land offices of the district where the lands are situated, that final payment and entry upon mining claims should be required to be made within a fixed period after location, say, seven years, exclusive of such period as the claimant may be involved in contest or adverse proceedings and that the placer mining laws should be amended so as to make the maximum area subject to location by an association, corporation or individual, forty acres."

BY RESOLUTION.

Resolutions of the following purport were reported favorably by the committee on resolutions and adopted by the Congress yesterday:

Urging activity by State and county in efforts to save on the desert and prevent suffering from lack of water by erecting guide posts and protecting springs, wells and water holes.

Commending President Taft and Congress for establishing the National Bureau of Mines.

Indorsing policy of officers of Bureau of Mines in steps to prevent mine accidents and providing for safety of working miners.

Recommending establishment of well-equipped chemico-physical laboratory by Bureau of Mines to study general problems of metallurgy by Bureau of Mines.

Suggesting collection and publication of results of workers along lines relating to mining and metallurgy by Bureau of Mines.

Urging examination by experts of all lands claimed to be mineral.

Suggesting uniform type of periodical report to be made by directors of mining companies to the Bureau of Mines.

BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The Chamber of Commerce last night gave a reception to the delegates and members of the Mining Congress and their wives and women friends. It was chiefly an occasion for the exemplification and amplification of Southern California gallantry and chivalry by President Scott. He made a speech, addressed almost entirely to the ladies, in which he said that the members of the Chamber of Commerce would see that no wish of theirs remained unfulfilled unless related to the fashion show on Broadway. He offered to provide all the visiting ladies with escorts, night or day, while their husbands should be engaged in the serious business of the congress.

A few facetious remarks about the glories and advantages of the Southern California climate opened an unexpected contest. President Buckley of the congress and also of the Chamber of Commerce, came forward in the defense of a locality which he said could offer more changes of climate in one spot than could be enjoyed in traveling from the top of Mt. Lowe to the seashore. The Californians admitted a noble prowess when the case took this turn. Among the other speakers were H. W. Brock of Canada and Director Holmes of the Bureau of Mines.

The visitors were invited to inspect the exhibits, special attention being called to Frank Higgins. Music and punch added to the social features of the occasion, and the mining men expressed themselves as greatly impressed with Southern California hospitality. The Chamber of Commerce committee consisted of J. W. Vickers, Thomas O'Donnell, E. A. Montgomery, James H. Hurin, W. L. Valentine, M. J. Monette, Walter F. Story, G. W. Parsons, R. D. Wade, Theo. B. Comstock, Henderson Hayward, Dr. Julius Koebig, S. Kraemer, W. E. Hughes, J. Ross Clark, S. T. Eldridge, Dean Mason, E. P. Bryan, W. D. Longyear, Arthur B. Mullen, James D. Schuyler, John E. Schweng, Alfred Solano, W. H. Newlander, C. Desmond, Stoddard Jess, M. J. Connell, Charles W. Wardwell, Charles Forman, W. F. Bedford, J. B. Brokaw, C. A. Canfield, Harry D. Daggett, W. J. Doran, Grant G. Gillette, Edward Doherty, A. D. Gilmore, E. M. Hamilton, C. W. Mitchell, John Morgan, P. Odemar, J. W. Orr, F. H. Ornd, A. Reymier, Charles V. Hall, J. A. Graves, Dan Murphy, S. A. Butler, Maynard McFie, Gregory Perkins, Jr., Jerome F. Kennerly, H. J. Woodcutt, J. H. Spire, Valentine Peyton, Conrad Scheerer, William H. Workman, Dr. Norman Bridge, J. F. McElheney, J. H. Francis, H. F. Frank, Seymour Swift, G. M. Otis, J. V. E. Watson, Auguste R. Marquis, Seelye W. Mudd, J. O. Royer, T. J. Carrigan, J. P. Gardiner and A. F. George.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock the visiting ladies and ladies of the Sierra Madre Club will be taken on an automobile ride, starting from the Hotel Alexandria.

Friday afternoon, Mrs. G. G. Gillette will entertain the visiting ladies and the wives of members of the Sierra Madre Club, at her residence, No. 43 Westmoreland place.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Mines and Oil have issued invitations to a luncheon today at the Alexandria to the directors and prominent guests of the congress. Among those invited are the following named: James W. Abbott, W. W. Orcutt, Lewis E. Aubrey, David T. Day, J. Winchester Holman, C. H. Thompson, Seelye W. Mudd, John Derr, E. Dorsey, George C. Rice, S. B. Christy, J. Foster Bain, R. W. Brock, Joseph A. Holmes, E. R. Buckley, D. W. Brunton, Will L. Clark, E. H. Benjamin, James F. Callbreath, Jr., Sidney Norman, E. W. Parker, Lyman A. Siseley, H. C. Freeman, George Mack, L. W. Powell, Sylvester C. Smith, Charles P. Fox, E. A. Montgomery. The luncheon will be held at the Hotel Alexandria.

In view of the fact that there are already a number of addresses scheduled by the various guests on subjects which will come up for discussion at the congress, it is understood that this luncheon will be merely informal, and that there will be only one or two short addresses; this, in order to give the delegates and guests an opportunity to participate in the afternoon session of the congress.

TO SEE AQUEDUCT.

INSPECTION BY DELEGATES.

The progress of the Los Angeles aqueduct is to be brought to the attention of the visiting delegates to the American Mining Congress during their stay in this city. On Saturday night Assistant Chief Engineer Lippincott will head a party of twenty of the visitors who will take the Owl for Mojave. Leaving the railroad at that point, the party will proceed over the Jawbone division. On Sunday the cement plant will be visited. The line of the work will be followed down to Saugus on Monday particular attention being given to the Elizabeth tunnel. The whole trip of inspection from Mojave will be made in automobiles. The men making up the party will be members of the National Mining and Metallurgical Society and will study the big water supply project in the role of competent and experienced engineers.

METHODISTS AT RECEPTION.

Two Hundred and Eighty Delegates Greet Bishop Hughes of San Francisco.

FRESNO, Sept. 27.—Welcome to the Southern California district conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, met tonight in an Episcopal reception to Bishop Edwin E. Hughes of San Francisco.

Superior Judge H. Z. Austin and Dr. Thomas Boyd of the Presbyterian church were among the speakers. Bishop Hughes decried the colossal waste of money as exhibited in the maintenance of several churches of different denominations in small towns, and in reference to the Vatican he stated that Col. Roosevelt, while there were differences between the churches, no Methodists were so narrow as to believe that God did not hold in high favor the good and true representatives of the Roman Catholic church.

Referring to the part the judiciary plays in modern life, partly in reference to Judge Austin, Bishop Hughes stated he was glad to note the increasing number of good men in public life. Veiled reference was made to the congress and also to the statement that the public is coming to a stage where it will not be fooled by technicalities, even when the technicalities are spoken by judges.

More delegates are expected tomorrow. The southern district comprises some 50,000 church members.

MINE CARPENTER IS KILLED.

One Car Leaves Track and David Ross Is Caught Between It and Side of Cut.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

GLOBE (AP) Sept. 27.—Caught between an ore car and the side of a cut in the Old Dominion mine, David Ross, mine carpenter, was instantly killed today. An open switch, which allowed the car to leave the main tracks, caused the accident. Ross was caught without warning, and he was unable to make his escape. Little is known here of the man, but he was said to have owned considerable property in Los Angeles.

FOOTHILL FARMS NEAR THIS CITY

HAVE INCREASED IN VALUE FASTER THAN ANY OTHER CLASS OF PROPERTY.

Those who came to Los Angeles in the early days and bought land in Pasadena, Sierra Madre, Monrovia and other foothill districts have made large fortunes through the enhancement in value of their property.

It is the common wish and hope of all to own a beautiful little country home in the foothills with a few acres of oranges or lemons to pay expenses. Such a life is real living. Don't you wish that some friend had taken you by the shoulder and made you pick up a few acres in one of the above-named places before they advanced from $300 to $3000 an acre? Yes, indeed, but those places have passed forever from easy reach of the man of moderate means.

There is just one genuine foothill opportunity left, and that is beautiful Monte Vista Park, only 15 miles from Los Angeles, nine miles from Pasadena. The district that surpasses even Redlands in its richness and grandeur.

The Western Empire, California's famous homebuilders and rural home makers, established 22 years, is now completing an organization of 200 local and Eastern residents to take over 1000 acres of land in the original Monte Vista valley.

A few more investors may join this organization, which secures this land at low wholesale price, improves it with roads, towns, schools and trolley line, and distributes the land to members of the organization at a profit of one-quarter of prevailing prices in the open retail market.

Don't try to imagine about this plan—come and investigate. More than 3000 people have come here through the work of THE WESTERN EMPIRE.

HOLLAND'S PLAN FAVORED.

Disposal of Surplus Water Is Threshed Out.

May not Alienate Any of It in Perpetuity.

Formation of Districts Is Strongly Advocated.

The aqueduct surplus water question, which has been the subject of so much discussion in the plan proposed by William Mulholland and which has been the subject of so much discussion in the plan proposed by William Mulholland, is being threshed out by the people's forum, organized by the city of Los Angeles, to gain advice on the water power propositions.

Continued discussion by authorities representing water rights and the city of Los Angeles, is being held out more fully the depth and scope of the Mulholland plan. At last night's session the Mulholland plan was specifically approved by James A. Brown, Leslie R. Hewitt, Oscar E. Brown, Walter J. Tracy and J. R. Lippincott. The approval was not as to the principle and policy in the plan, but as to the details.

The progress of discussion has also been entirely the question of a surplus of any portion of the water of 15,000 cfs. It is assumed that this is not contemplated by any of the water rights holders. In the opinion of Hewitt, Tracy and Lippincott, this is a matter of law, and the city of Los Angeles, under the charter, has the right to dispose of the surplus water in any manner it may see fit.

It is suggested that if this precaution is not sufficient, the city should reserve the right to acquire the surplus water by purchase or by other means, at any time and in any manner it may see fit.

"CUSS" WORD ECHO HEARD.

Furniture Business Stirs Up the Supervisors.

Attorney Tells Solons Bid Was Never Accepted.

Contract Is Finally Awarded After Discussion.

The "cuss" incident, which almost disrupted the harmony of the Board of Supervisors, when the question of furnishing the new Hall of Records was under consideration last July, was reviewed yesterday with almost disastrous results.

Supervisor Eldridge is the father of the sentence which has caused so much trouble. The words were directed at Supervisor Priddyham. He is unable to forget them.

Priddyham is laboring under the impression that Eldridge called him a "cuss" liar, while his colleagues declare that he merely remarked "Priddyham, it's no such damned thing."

It is understood there are decisions in several States which declare that the word is not one of blasphemy, having been incorporated in all the English language by frequent usage.

Priddyham cannot look at it in this light. He referred to the incident as a "cuss" to a discussion yesterday in the manner which would cause the supervisors are proceeding in regard to the furniture.

When the smoke had cleared away, it was found that they had never accepted the bid of the California Furniture Company, although they had voted to accept it. Supervisor McCabe was the first to discover the condition of the furniture deal and by a 3 to 2 vote rescinded in getting the California company's bid officially ratified.

HEATED DISCUSSION.
The session throughout the day was heated one and the language used was a decidedly bad one. The official temperature had almost reached the boiling point when an adjournment was taken.

Priddyham started the fireworks when he arose to point out that much furniture offered in the California bid of $27,000 could be cut out. He declared that there could be a saving of $10,000 in the Recorder's office alone. He also said that articles of furniture had been put in the bid. The heads of departments did not have on their lists when they submitted them to the board.

The manner in which the bid was taken was then referred to. The attorney, with Eldridge as the chief counsel, made a long and heated speech. The chairman at this point suggested that the speaker was making unnecessary charges.

"Am I called down?" asked Eldridge. The chairman informed him that he was.

"All right then, I am asked for and I will say that all I have is that I have seen this firm's agent and Priddyham in close conference many times."

Priddyham denied that he had favored any concern and declared that he was simply trying to get the most for the public money.

Supervisor McCabe moved that the bid of the California concern be accepted and Eldridge proposed a second. Priddyham rose to a point of order, asserting that the bid was accepted in July, and that the motion was not proper.

The minutes of the September 7th meeting were called for. It was found that the bid had previously been accepted with the provision that the supervisors might make any reductions they saw fit.

WEARY OF JUDGING.
In support of his motion McCabe declared he was weary of having the furniture jugged around for political reasons.

"I want it on the records in a legal manner," he said. "The way the thing stands now, they can take us into court and tie us up for two or three years. They are paying nearly $400,000 for a new building and I do not propose to see it stand idle. The money is now expending $6000 a month."

Priddyham was ruled out of order and McCabe's motion carried by a three to two vote. Priddyham and Eldridge dissenting. The latter wished for a legal opinion and Deputy Dist. Atty. Shaw was called in. To the surprise of all present except McCabe, he held that a original action in enjoining the contract, which has been in the courts for some time on various pretexts, was not let until yesterday.

Meaning and Priddyham asserted that he desired to have nothing more to do with involving the needs of the floor. For this declared it was evident that the new motion bound the county to take the entire $267,000 worth. McCabe dissenting and Eldridge dissenting. The furniture concern would make any reasonable deductions for furniture which they did not wish to receive.

Representatives of the firm were called before the board in the afternoon and asked what they would do. They assured that they would accept the figures would be just on reductions.

DEMANDS ITEMIZED BID.
Manning demanded an itemized price each piece of furniture which was the bid. They refused to give it, declaring they had been required in the advertisement to figure on the contract as an entirety.

"I do not think it is fair that we should be accused of planning to rob the county on deductions before you have received our figures for them," declared one of the furniture men. "If we will give you a statement of the furniture you wish to leave out, we will give you the amount which we will allow you for it. If you are not satisfied with it, I will call to your WEDDING BELLS.

Casa Verdugo, maybe we'll be back tonight."

Night came, but no Miss Quinn and no Webber. Just as Mrs. Kunze was beginning to get nervous the telephone bell rang faintly. At the other end a still, small voice said, also faintly: "This you, Jessie? I just thought I'd ring up and tell that we're just being mum-mum-mum."

"What?" ejaculated Mrs. Kunze, almost dropping the receiver in her amazement.

"Sure thing," said another voice—Webber's. "We were married in Glendale this afternoon. We're down at Camp's new-wedding supper, you know. Congratulations are in order if you don't mind, please." Then he hung up before Mrs. Kunze could recover her breath sufficiently to ask questions. Hurried telephoning to various chums brought forth the information that they all had been notified of the happy event. There was a hasty gathering of the clan at No. 710, a ransacking of the kitchen closet for pounds and pounds of rice, a frantic search through the cellar for old shoes, a ruthless plundering of bureau drawers for baby-blue ribbon. It was levee's labor lost, for the truant ones did not show up at all.

About 10 o'clock yesterday morning the supposed Mrs. Webber appeared at her sister's home—by herself. Mrs. Kunze met her at the door with a torrent of questions, of which the first one was:

"Well, Mrs. Webber, what next?"

"What, Mrs. Webber, what next?"
